

Taslina gets back her dues

Complaint No: 588/14

Taslina (pseudo name) got married to shahin. After 6 month of their marriage Shahin (pseudo name) migrated to a foreign country with the money he got from his mother in law who arranged money by selling her land. After migration, he did not communicate with Taslima and did not send any maintenance for her. Her husband's family members also used to torture her. In this situation, she came to JAMAKON and sought solution through mediation.

JAMAKON tried to mediate between Taslima and her husband. In a hearing, both Taslima and Shahin's family agreed that until Shahin returns, his father as a guardian of both Taslima and Shahin, would give maintenance for Taslima. But after some months Taslima again complained that her father in law gave her maintenance for only 2 months and her in-laws threatened her not to claim any maintenance further.

JAMAKON called her father in law for another hearing. In this hearing, her father in law informed that they wanted divorce of their son Shahin. With the consent of both parties, they agreed for divorce and Shahin's father agreed to return Taslima's mother's money that Sahin took for migration and also the Denmohor (money that a muslim wife gets after diviroce) and also the due maintenance. In this way, through mediation JAMAKON solved the problem.
